Additional Data: William Hargrove and his wife came to Texas in 1842 from Alabama. Hargrove and Jacob Haller formed a partnership in 1847 and built the present building to be used as an Inn or Hotel, since the stage coach stand was near by, and there was not a place where passengers could spend the night or rest during their long trip to Austin or Houston. After the death of Haller, Hargrove and his wife ran the Inn for several years until the death of Hargrove. Mrs. Hargrove then sold the Inn to Judge Thomas who operated the Inn until the outbreak of the Civil War. Since this time the old building has been used from time to time as a home for whom ever rented it.
